

JCI Barbados HIV/AIDS Food Bank Donation

JCI Barbados continues to pursue different social strategies to be more productive in society and embracing our social responsibility, as we continue to donate to worthwhile causes.

On August 15th, 2016 a food donation was made at the headquarters of the HIV/AIDS Food Bank. JCI Barbados President Charlene Corbin and JCI West Indies National Vice President Shenella Govia, on her official visit to her assigned local organization in Barbados, made a presentation of food items valuing $500. Graciously accepting the donation on behalf of the HIV/AIDS Food Bank were representatives Kedelyn Morgan and Theresa Sealy.

Our organization will continue to inculcate the values and benefits of volunteerism and dedication to helping our society, as JCI Barbados assists young people to take a leading role in ensuring poverty eradication and achieving sustainable youth development.

Through the assistance of our corporate partners and stakeholders, JCI Barbados Project ME - Mission Empowerment continues in the development of the future leaders of Barbados. On Saturday August 27th, 2016 9:00am to 2:30pm, a free workshop entitled "Let's Get Real" will be conducted to highlight the importance of building self-esteem, healthy living and volunteerism.
