JCI Barbados is a voluntary organization and, as such, there are no firm commitments in terms of the actual time input that members have to contribute.

When joining JCI, members commit to membership for a period of one year and payment is due in advance for the entire year. JCI Barbados offers its members the opportunity to pay the annual membership fee by instalments spread over three (3) months. As such members remain liable to pay any outstanding amounts to JCI Barbados in respect of their current annual membership subscription. Membership will not be activated until payment is received (or the first instalment in the cases where the instalment option is chosen).

Should a member wish to cancel their membership part way through a year of membership, JCI Barbados will not refund part of the membership fee, other than in exceptional circumstances. The decision as to whether or not a refund will be granted will be made by the National Organization, whose decision shall be final and binding.
